

Celebration of International Mother Language Day

Workshop on creative writing – ‘Language to paint’

Series 1: Script Writing

Organised by the morning section in collaboration with The Internal Quality Assurance Cell, Victoria Institution (College) dated February 25, 2026

Mother tongue strengthens personal, social, and cultural identity while connecting individuals to their heritage. In order to celebrate International Mother Language Day, the Morning Section of Victoria Institution (College) in collaboration with IQAC has organized an Inter-College workshop on creative writing. On 25.02.2026, it was a day-long workshop entitled "Script Writing" which was the first one of a series of workshop under the title "Language to Paint". The resource person was eminent Media personality and former professor of Victoria Institution (College) Dipanwita Ghosh Mukhopadhyay. The workshop was inaugurated by principal Dr. Maitreyi Ray Kanjilal. It was a successful event on learning the basics of Script Writing through various activities. The students of Victoria Institution (College) and from other colleges, ex-teacher and Alumni members, 36 in total, participated with great enthusiasm. They are excited for the first-hand experience on script writing which they watched earlier on Film and Web Series.

Tentative Programme Schedule

Workshop on 25.02.2026

11: am - 11:30 am:	Inaugural Session
11:30 am - 12:30 pm:	Talk by resource person
12:30 pm - 1:30 pm:	Practical Session
1:30 pm - 2:00 pm:	Lunch Break
2:00 pm - 3:00 pm:	Resource Person's Discussions with the Participants
3:00 pm - 3:30 pm:	Certificate Distribution followed by Vote of Thanks

